

BATLE STUDIO

New Studio Pads from San Francisco artist Angelio Batle make amazing gifts! The artist designs amazingly intricate graphite sculptures that are both works of art and functional objects which will serve as working pencils for years. The Studio Pads pair a graphite object with a pad so the recipient can store and create with the graphic piece!

PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

Sculptor Angelio Batle's reverence for nature and organic forms was honed by countless hours studying nature's grandeur, in addition to his formal studies in biology and art. His love of nature shines through in the intricate beauty of the graphite objects which feature the best that the natural world has to offer.

Each graphite object is meticulously created through a unique process which combines carbonaceous graphite with smudge-resistant compounds under intense pressure. This creates an object whose entire surface can draw while the graphite will resist smudging onto your hands. Batle envisions these objects as sculptures, as much as they are implements for inspiring your own vision!

Perfect for grads, artists, architects, engineers, dreamers, and doodlers!
